

Najah M. Arnold

95 Joyce Kilmer Ave Piscataway, NJ 08854
najah.arnold@rutgers.edu | (862) 216-4420

EDUCATION

Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ May 2020
Bachelor of Arts in Psychology with minor in Animal Science

HONORS

- Dean's List: Fall 2015, Fall 2018, Spring 2019

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

February 2019-Present

Racism, Identity, Coping and Health Lab, New Brunswick, NJ

Undergraduate Research Assistant

- Assist in collecting data from physiological tests on human subjects
- Update codebooks

INTERNSHIP EXPERIENCE

June 2019-August 2019

RWJBarnabas Health, West Orange, NJ

Corporate Intern, Office of Diversity and Inclusion

- Researched African American infant mortality rates and implicit bias in healthcare for Clinician training module
- Coordinated with hospital Administrative Conference to set up Cultural Competency Trainings
- Collected and organized data from three facilities for department mid-year review
- Reviewed hospital policies for correct modern cultural competent language
- Collaborated with Mandela Washington Fellows and GrassROOTS Community Foundation for Mozambique Cyclone Disaster Hackathon

CAMPUS INVOLVEMENT

Rutgers Companion Animal Club Spring 2016-Present

- Educate the general public on the importance of and laws surrounding service dogs
- Attend outreach events on and off campus
- Volunteer with affiliated organizations
- Fundraise to support service dogs in training

VOLUNTEER WORK

Merlin's KIDS Spring 2016-Present

Certified Service Dog Handler

- Short-term foster service dogs in training during school breaks
- Transport dogs to veterinarian appointments, exposure trips, and potential placement trials
- Provide public access exposure for service dogs in training

SKILLS

- Proficient in Microsoft Office, Mac OS, and Windows
- Knowledge of Adobe Photoshop
- FEMA certified in protocols for Livestock and Animals in disasters